The video demo tape is not made of short clips; instead, it is the first 16 minutes of an after-luncheon program. As you'll see from the Suggestions for Programs sheet below, this is only one of a number of presentations I can do for your group.

“The Leadership Program you brought to the Michigan Executive Officers Council on September 23 in Traverse City was outstanding. You were masterful in defining and integrating the various styles under which we all operate.

Even more importantly, you made us think about how we accomplish common goals with our respective Staff and our volunteers. I am writing this letter because I did not feel it would be possible for you to top that program. However, you were able to exceed your level of performance at our Board of Directors Planning Session.”

PROGRAMS

BY JERRY V. TEPLITZ, J.D., PH.D.
KEYNOTES AND SEMINARS ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Your Leadership Success Formula

With the increase in competition and changes in the workplace, the key to good management practices now requires a clear understanding of human behavior. Through this program leaders will learn their own behavior style while they also receive a picture of the style of the people they have to manage. This information will allow them to better relate to and motivate their subordinates, and is also valuable in team building, hiring, and the correct placement of personnel.

Speeding To Effective Time Mastery: Working Smarter Not Harder

With the complexities of the business world today, there never seems to be enough time to accomplish everything we need to do. Through this program participants will discover their own time management strengths and weaknesses leading to the development of a personal, effective time management strategy.

Hiring, Placing & Motivating Excellent People

The key to success within any organization is hiring the right person for the job and then keeping them properly motivated. Through this seminar, participants will gain tools that can be used to determine the strengths and weaknesses of a potential employee, as well as the ability to determine the most appropriate placement of that person within the organization and, finally, what steps can be taken to keep them motivated.

Increasing Your Leadership Power to New Levels of Excellence

Have your attendees ever had a negative day as a leader? How did they feel at the end of it? Tired, drained... Have your attendees ever had a positive day as a leader? How did they feel at the end of it? Energized. What if they could create every day to be a great day! What would that do to their leadership abilities? This program will show participants how to make every day that way through actual tools and techniques that will increase their energy levels for more effective leadership capabilities.

Managing Leadership Stress

Time pressures, people pressures, and bottom line pressures all add to the level of stress leaders have to deal with today. This program focuses on giving leaders the techniques and abilities to take charge of the stressful situations they encounter in the workplace.

Creating New Dimensions of Leadership

In a successful organization leaders can be found at every level – from the boardroom to the mail-room, from the chairman's office to the customer service desk. This is particularly relevant with the flatter, team-oriented approach to leadership and management today. This program will allow participants to discover what they value in themselves as a leader, what kind of leaders they want to follow and the leadership needs of the organization.

Dear Jerry,

Thank you again for a wonderful presentation! You were a big hit at our Leadership Learning Conference. People are still talking about your outstanding program and the tips and techniques you shared to increase one's energy levels. We had several skeptics in the audience but you had them convinced by the end of the session! One of our attendees summed it up nicely by saying "Jerry's program was fun, high energy and useful." When you get that kind of return on investment you know you picked a winner. Thanks for helping to make our conference first-rate.

Dear Jerry:

Thank you for opening our annual conference with two dynamic programs. The keynote address, "Increasing Your Professional Vision Power to New Levels of Excellence" and the breakout session that followed, "Creating High Energy Websites and PR Materials" contained everything you promised and more. They certainly set the stage for the conference.

Members also appreciated your providing a table of additional material for purchase. This allowed attendees to take back to the office additional information for further review and follow through. This was a wonderful suggestion and one that completed and complimented your programs well.

From a planner perspective I want to say "thank you" for the extra work you did in preparation of the presentation. Your assistance in framing the message increased conference registrations, helped draw people into your program, eliminated any misconceptions, and reinforced what members walk away with having heard your sessions. You also took special care in crafting your presentation delivery so there was audience participation and increased buy in to your concepts, your sessions were fun, not drudgery.

Jerry, you are true artist. I thank you for not only providing valuable information but for making this year's conference one of the best. I am very pleased with the results.

Sincerely,
